FOUNDATION PLAN IS SHOWN ABOVE

How to Start Your Building:

1st. Pick out the No. 11 Timbers. Flat side down, beveled side up, these half Timbers are used to form the front and back of the base of the building.

2nd. Connect the ends of the No. 11 Timbers with two No. 5 Timbers.

3rd. Lay a No. 9 Timber over the rear No. 11.

4th. Place 2 No. 1/2 Timbers on the front No. 11 and connect them with the No. 5 Timbers, by two No. 3 Timbers—to start the door as shown in the diagram.

5th. Follow the numbers in the diagram; then read about the other construction features illustrated on this Page and you will be ready to build the structures shown on Pages 3, 6 and 7. Before long you will be designing your own buildings. Rubber bands may be used to hold them together, if desired.

INTRODUCTION

The building designs shown herein are simple and easy to understand but they represent merely a few suggestions. The possible combinations of Lincoln Log Timbers are without end as the Timbers are designed on a multiple unit system that is based on their thickness which is $\frac{3}{4}$ ". The Timbers are interlocking at windows, doors and corners to make buildings more solid. The numbers of the Timbers and other pieces are given on Page 2, actual sizes being shown.

GABLE AND ROOF CONSTRUCTION

The new patented Lincoln Log gable and roof is illustrated above. When the sides and ends of your building have reached the desired height, place slotted Timbers No. 4 on the uppermost Timbers at the ends of the building to receive the triangular gables No. 37. Then place the bottom roof planks No. 40 on the lower corners of the gables and against the outer edges of the notches in the slotted Timbers as shown in the diagram, and place other roof planks No. 39 above them on the gables to complete the roof.

WHEEL AND AXLE

The larger sets contain wheels which in the early days were made from cross sections of Logs. Among the first things made with wheels were the wheel barrow, hand truck and the ox cart. Later on man designed the wagon and the automobile. These can be made from Lincoln Log Timber Sets B, C and E as shown on Pages 3, 6 and 7.

The new grooved Timbers No. 2 are used as bearings for the axle, No. 45, on the ends of which are placed the wheels, No. 34. These wheels are held securely to the axle by friction while the axle turns freely in the groove. Longer Timbers are then placed in the notches of the No. 2 Timbers to form the chassis on which the desired body may be constructed.

A NEW DEVELOPMENT IN LINCOLN LOG TIMBER CONSTRUCTION is the use of the narrow roof planks No. 39 as beams or girders by placing two of the planks in the opposite notches of a Timber, as shown in the illustrations above, and locking the ends together with No. 1 or other Timbers. The planks and Timbers thus locked together may be placed either vertically or horizontally to build towers, bridges, fences, platforms, etc., as illustrated within. When both ends of a pair of planks are thus locked together, the elasticity of the planks provides enough tension to hold the pieces securely.

DIAGRAM OF PIECES — Actual Size

Because of lack of space, the following pieces are not illustrated: No. 20 and No. 21, the longest Timbers; No. 37 and No. 38, the gables for slotted Timbers No. 4 and No. 8; No. 41 and No. 42, the longest roof planks; No. 45, the Axle; and No. 46, the cardboard used for the floor of the second story in the doll's house shown on Page 7.

EARLY AMERICAN FORT MADE FROM LINCOLN LOG LUMBER

During the period following the Revolutionary War, a number of Log Forts were built by United States Army Engineers to protect the Early Settlers from unfriendly Indians and to hold the land against possible encroachments of Foreign Nations. These Forts were also used as Trading Posts. Our Early American Fort Set, illustrated above, follows the same general plan of construction.

This set is made of Lincoln Log Lumber which has been especially designed for this purpose. These Forts with their stockades, barracks, blockhouses, cabins, etc., would ordinarily require a very large number of separate Logs.

To simplify building, Lincoln Log Lumber is made up of groups of logs combined in sections of convenient size. The illustration at the left shows how two such sections are joined to form a corner. Full instructions are included with each set.

THERE ARE THREE BEAUTIFUL SETS TO CHOOSE FROM

THE EARLY AMERICAN FORT SET complete with Powder House, Flagpole and Flag, Settlers' Cabin, four Soldiers of 1812 and six Pottawatomie Indians all made of unbreakable metal, beautifully enameled in colors and packed in a very attractive box, can be bought for only $5.00. Set No. 50.

A smaller set made to sell for $3.00 is known as the Fort Dearborn Construction Set. This is similar to the Early American Fort Set except that it does not contain the Powder House, Settlers' Cabin or Figures. It is typical of the old Fort Dearborn which originally stood near the present intersection of North Michigan Avenue and Wacker Drive, Chicago. It was built in 1803-04.

It was burned by the Indians on August 15, 1812, at the time of the Fort Dearborn Massacre. That event took place not far from the site of the new Fort Dearborn which was constructed on Leif Eriksen Drive at 26th Street for the 1933-34 "Century of Progress" exhibition at Chicago. Set No. 40.

The Settlers' Cabin with seven unbreakable metal figures — three Indians, two Cowboys and two Pioneers, packed in an attractive box may be purchased for $1.00. Set No. 50C1.

All of the figures used in these sets are properly proportioned, historically correct and stamped with the mark "Lincoln Logs, U. S. A." If your dealer can't supply you, you may write direct to Lincoln Logs, 14th Floor, Merchandise Mart, Chicago.
